SIM INESS PICKS O'BRIEN AS HIS SUCCESSOR IN 1956 OLYMPIC GAME COMPETITION

By Davis Harp

Who will replace Sim Iness in the 1956 Olympic games?

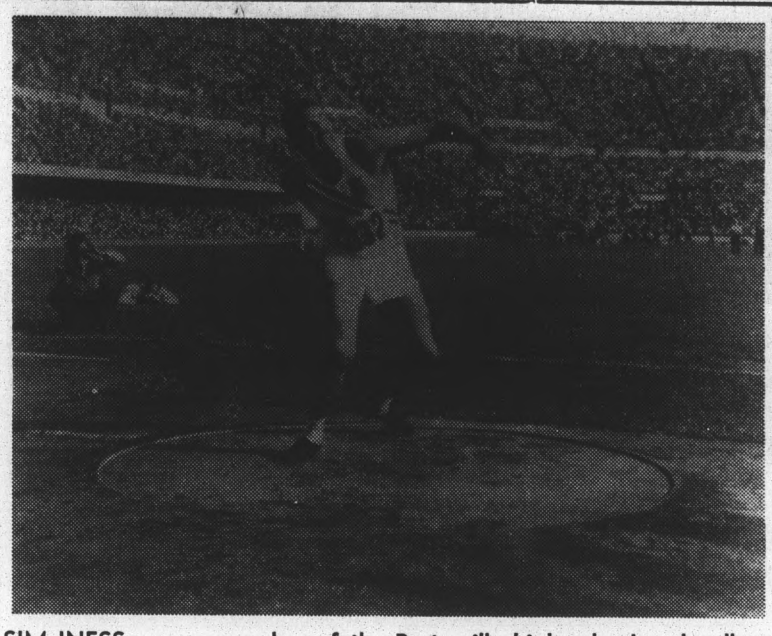

In the opinion of Iness himself, it will be Perry O'Brien, already a world champion and Olympic games winner as a shot putter, who will take over for the United States as a discus thrower, to fill the shoes left vacant by Innes, who won the 1952 Olympic games discus throw with a heave of 180 feet, six inches.

Iness, now a member of the Porterville high school and college faculty, says of O'Brien, "I have talked to Perry and he figures he has gotten all he can out of the shot put and he is concentrating on the discus. He beat world's record holder, Fortune Gordien, in the West Coast Relays last year at Fresno with a tremendous heave of 184 feet. Actually, he could be a double winner, shot and discus, in this year's Olympic games."

Iness also picks UCLA's Rafer Johnson as another Olympic winner, in the decathlon.

Big Sim, a towering giant at six-foot-six and one-half inches, and 275 pounds, after winning the '52 Olympic discus championship, came back a year later at the National Collegiate meet in Lincoln, Neb., to toss the platter 190 feet, seven-eighth inches, for a new world record, only to have this record broken a week later by another American great, Fortune Gordien, with a heave of 194 feet,

SIM INESS, now a member of the Porterville high school and college faculty, is shown above as he got away a discus toss that won the 1952 Olympic title at Helsinki, Finland — 180 feet, six inches. The photo was taken by Perry O'Brien, world champion shot putter, who wrote on the back of the photo, "Sim, this was your best throw, the one that won you fame and acclaim in the world of sports. P. O. B." O'Brien also earned some "fame and acclaim" himself, when he won the Olympic shot put, and he is the man who Iness predicts will replace him this year as Olympic discus winner, since he has been concentrating on this event along with his shot putting.

TULE DAMAGE REPORTED

Tule river waters were receding this morning after mountain rains Wednesday had brought the river to flood stage for the second time in 30 days.

Although the flow was not as heavy — peak yesterday was estimated at about 17,000 second feet compared to about 25,000 second feet in December, considerable damage was still reported along the river.

Oettle bridge, always a trouble point during high water, was impassable this morning as result of a washed out approach on the north end, while breaks in the river levies both east and west of the bridge poured water again into the farm district that was hardest hit by the December flood.

Washing away of sand under pilings forced the closing of the Olive street bridge today, with county road crews attempting to complete repairs before night.

Approaches to Worth bridge again went out; South Tule road

FINAL PUSH FOR DIMES ON TUESDAY

Final push for March of Dimes funds in Tulare county is now being made, with special events planned in various communities and with a "Mothers' March" and talent show set for Porterville next Tuesday evening, January 31.

Heading the Mothers' March is Mrs. Myrtle Weins, who reports that a stage show will be presented at the Porterville Monache theater, starting at 7:30 p.m., with a "live" broadcast from the stage over radio station KTIP.

During the evening, cars will "cruise" the Porterville area picking up March of Dimes donations from persons who phone in requests for numbers on the program, or who desire to have someone pick up their donation. The requests can be phoned in to the theater or radio station, word will then go out over the air to guide the roving collectors.

There will be no admission

SPORTSMEN TO HEAR STATE HEAD

Directors of the Southern Tulare County Sportsmen's association are meeting at noon today at Gang Sue's with Seth Gordon, director of the California department of fish and game, to discuss general matters relating to fish and game affairs.

He will be accompanied by Phil Roedel, manager of region No. 4 of the department, with headquarters in Fresno. Representatives of other Tulare county sportsmen's association are expected to attend, as well as state and federal forest officials.

Action on several matters was taken by southern county association directors at a meeting last Friday evening. They voted to oppose moving of the state pheasant farm now located in Porterville; they opposed a movement to have doves listed as "song birds", which, if accomplished, would take them off the list of game

County Cow Belles Map Program To Encourage Use Of Beef In School Lunch Program; Recipes Requested

Plans to encourgae use of beef in school lunch programs were mapped by members of the Tulare County Cow Belles, auxiliary of the Tulare County Cattlemen's association, at a luncheon meeting last Saturday at Rosso's in Woodville.

Mrs. Sue Moore, of Success Valley, chairman of the promotion committee, discussed plans of her group, which includes, as members, Mary Dennis, of Ducor; Mercedes Hinkle, of Orosi and Marjorie Shannon, of Visalia.

She requested that women who have recipes using beef in quantity submit these recipes to one of the committee members for later county and national distribution.

The Tulare County Cow Belles, several years ago, instigated a program of printing and distributing beef recipes in Tulare county, a program that eventually was taken up by the National Cow Belles, who also published a beef recipe book for national circulation.

Also speaking at the Saturday meeting were Marion Guthrie, past president of the National Cow Belles, and Velma Gill; they told

DEDICATORY CEREMONY SET FOR SUNDAY AT CHURCH OF JESUS CHRIST OF LATTER DAY SAINTS, EAST PUTNAM, PORTERVILLE

Dedicatory services will be held for the recently completed chapel of the Porterville Ward of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints, on Sunday, January 29. Bishop Don G. Christenson will conduct the meeting which will begin at 7:00 p.m. The public is invited.

S. Dilworth Young, from Salt Lake City, one of the General Authorities of the church, will deliver the sermon and dedicatory prayer, it was announced this week.

Erected at a cost in excess of $103,000.00, the edifice has been under construction for three and one-half years. It was designed by Clifford Evans, official architect for the church. More than 14,000 hours of volunteer labor have been donated by the local membership which numbers about 200 persons.

Funds were raised by food sales, auctions, public dinners, rummage sales and other projects, notable among which were Fourth of July Rodeos and the publication of a Porterville City directory.

A chapel, recreation hall, Relief Society room, kitchen, Scout room, and various class rooms are to be found in the completed structure. A notable feature is the 21-rank pipe organ which was given to the Porterville Ward by Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Damann and family in memory of their son, Carl G. Damann. The organ was installed and totally designed by Richard S. Villemin of Porterville.

Charles Solomon Resigns From Ag. Department

Charles Solomon this week announced that he has submitted his resignation as head of the agricultural department at Strathmore high school to accept a position with the Grange company in Modesto.

He will complete the school year at Strathmore, moving, with his family to Modesto, early in June. No successor has been named as yet by the Strathmore high school board of trustees.

Mr. Solomon has been at Strathmore high school for eight years. He organized the agricultural department at the school and has planned its expansion during his period with the school.

RESOLUTION ASKS UPSTREAM DAM SURVEY

Directors of the Tule River Soil Conservation district have asked that funds be made available by congress for upstream dam surveys. A resolution by the organization states:

RESOLVED, We, the directors of the Tule River Soil Conservation district do hereby respectfully request and urgently petition the Congress of the United States to appropriate a sufficient amount of funds in order that the Corps of Engineers, U. S. Army, may pursue the necessary studies and engineering which are preliminary to the actual construction of flood control dams in the upper Tule River Watershed area, with the view of providing overall flood protection and control to the entire Tule river watershed.

A notable accomplishment, directed by Mr. Solomon, was the establishing, expansion and operation of a high school farm.

In this project he received cooperation from several agencies, and many individuals in the community; much of the development work was done by Future Farmers at the school as class projects.

Although Strathmore is one of the smaller high schools in the state, the quality of its farm training program was recognized by state officials when the school was selected several years ago to inaugurate an agricultural cadet teacher program to provide practical experience for upper level students coming out of Cal Poly as agricultural instructors.

THE OLD DAYS

PORTERVILLE ENTERPRISE May 18, 1900

Editors, Enterprise:

A good deal of complaint is being made by persons who live along the Southern Pacific railroad west of town on account of the practice of people gathering up swills, carrion and offalls of the city and dumping it within two or three hundred feet of their homes for the satisfaction of a few dollars made in the fattening of a herd of hogs. We have stood the smell of the dumping grounds for the past year and a half. Now, if the health officer of Porterville cannot do anything, this matter will be petitioned to the board of supervisors.

Yours respectfully,
A VOTER

damage is reported; the North Fork bridge above Springville was out this morning, and the east approach to the Springville bridge, at the Soda Spring, again went out.

Globe bridge is closed, however, the River road bridge below Springville and the Success Valley bridge at Bartlett park were not damaged.

With a clean river channel, well saturated with water as a result of the December flood, it appears that yesterday's high water moved faster than usual, thus increasing the washing effect.

Visalia was again under water, this time as a result of plugged water lines that carry the flow of Mill creek under the business district of the city.

Meanwhile, the push for flood control money from congress continues. United States Senator Thomas H. Kuchel has asked for "a speedy inventory of authorized but unstarted flood protection works", and has cited the recent California and Tulare county floods as proof of the urgency of stepped-up flood prevention measures.

In order to push for adequate funds, Senator Kuchel has asked the Army Engineers for data on projects previously completed and estimate of likely damage prevented; and projects already authorized but not completed or started, along with the status of planning for construction, estimated Federal construction cost, amount of money that could be spent effectively in the fiscal year starting July 1 and estimated time needed for project completion.

RAINFALL

A reported five inches of rain through the upper Tule river county is credited with yesterday's high water. Official figures show: Porterville, 1.36 for the storm; season total, 6.91; last year, 5.21. Pinehurst, 4.51, 30.07, 17.23; Springville, 1.62, 15.31, 9.25; Hot Springs, 1.27, 19.55, 11.04; Glennville, 1.37, 15.80, 8.56 and Kernville, 1.50, 8.45, 4.84.

Judging will be at 2:00 p.m.; a potluck lunch will be served at noon.

Plans for the event were completed at a recent meeting of the Sierra Chinchilla club, held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Offutt. Betty Gill reported that the northern California branch, NCBA Chinchilla show will be held at El Cerrito, February 5; that southern branch show is set for Los Angeles, January 28-29 and that San Fernando branch of the association will hold a show in North Hollywood, February 5.

Attending the recent meeting were: Messers. anr Mesdames W. G. Pettet, Sparling Martin, Vinton Daley, Dale Gill, R. Brikey, J. B. Hardaway, Paul Wilson, J. R. Offutt, and Mrs. A. Nelson, and Mrs. Davis.

AN EXCELLENT APPOINTMENT

No finer individual could have been found to manage the Tulare county chamber of commerce, than W. S. Clawson, former publisher of The Exeter Sun, and a resident of Exeter for many years.

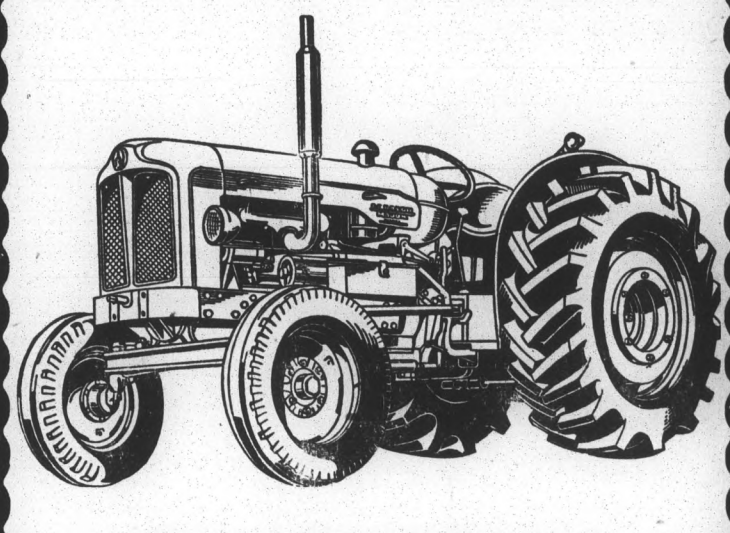

Now retired from the newspaper business, following sale of his paper, Watt has the time to handle the county chamber job. And certainly he has the background and the ability, for he has successfully run his own business for more than 40 years, and for an equal period of time he has been closely associated with affairs of the entire county through his newspaper work and through his connections with various civic, fraternal and service organizations of his community and of the county.

Because of his good common sense and his genuine friendliness, Watt is highly respected throughout the county, and his reputation and friendships extend into many areas of state affairs.

We predict there will be a great change in operation of the Tulare county chamber of commerce after February 1 when Watt takes over; we predict that relationship between the county chamber and the various city chambers will immediately improve, for Watt has the ability to bring this about, and we predict that all of the county chamber affairs will be handled in a fair and just manner, designed to accomplish the real purpose of the county chamber — the promotion of all of Tulare county.

So we wish Watt well in his new job; we hope that he finds real satisfaction in his work. We know that Tulare county will profit, chamber-of-commerce-wise, by having him in this key position.

Sim Iness Picks Perry O'Brien To Win Discus Throw In 1956 Olympic Games

"The 190 ft. throw was the easiest throw I ever made," says Iness, "Everything went right and I just stood there and the discus kept going. I thought it would never stop. Perry O'Brien was standing at the world's record mark and he had to back up to keep from being hit. He started jumping around and then I knew I had set a new world's record."

Sim, who is rated as one of the all-time track greats from the University of Southern California, started making his mark in the discus world while at Tulare high school. At that time the high school discus was the same size and weight as used in college and Olympics competition. With this discus Sim had a best throw of 154 feet 6 inches which is three inches off the world's high school record.

After graduating from Tulare, Sim journeyed to Compton JC where he was a standout tackle on Compton's 1948 football squad, which was led by Hugh McElhenny now of the San Francisco 49'ers. Big Sim bulwarked the Tarter line in Compton's 48-12 defeat of favored Duluth, Minnesota, in the Little Rose Bowl game of that year.

An amusing incident during Innes's discus career took place while he was carrying the colors of SC. The campus sports editor had been predicting a new world's record for Iness at every track meet, and when Sim threw 182 ft. 10 inches for a new Los Angeles Coliseum record, that still stands, the sports writer reported that Sim threw the discus "only" 182 feet.

Another painful but odd incident was when Sim was hit in the mouth with a discus, causing the loss of three teeth. A week later he set his world's record in Nebraska, but Iness does not recommend a discus in the teeth as regular training routine.

Taft Cougars Meet Pirates Friday Night

Taft JC's lanky Cougars invade local territory Friday night in an effort to hand the PC Pirates their fifth loss during league play.

The Pirates beat the Taft crew in their first meeting in the Bakersfield Invitational Tourney, as Mountie Bedford found the range against the Cougars and burned the nets for 39 points.

The Cougars boast a lot of height, a commodity the Pirates are rather shy on, and are led by 6 foot 8 inch, Bob Sealock, who was also an end on the Cougars' championship football squad. The Pirates should rate the nod over the Taft outfit on past performances.

In their next outing the Pirates meet the Antelope Valley Mauraders here in Porterville Tuesday night; the Pirates lost an early season game to the AV Quintet.

DEEP CHILL ON GYMNASIUM ALSO ON TEAM

A deep chill settled over the Tulare high school gym last Friday night, cooling the already lukewarm Panthers and resulting in one of their poorest shooting nights of the season as the PUHS crew lost to the Tulare Redskins 33-28.

The Panthers left the floor at the half time with only nine points on the scoreboard and registered only 19 during the second half. Bob Hill, who was league scoring champ last year in the Southern Yosemite league, scored only 10 points for his worst night in two years of varsity ball; brother Tiny was high scorer for the Panthers with 13.

PANTHERS MEET LEAGUE LEADERS

Porterville High School's second place Panthers take on the league-leading Hanford Bullpups Friday night in Hanford, and the Shafter Generals Saturday night in the home court.

Hanford holds wins over Tulare and Redwood of Visalia in league play. They are led by 6 ft. 4 in. Alex Horn, and sharp shooting Johnny Felix. The Panthers led by the Hill Brothers, Tiny and Bob, will finish the first round of league competition against the Pups.

TIME OUT

Time to go into training for the third annual Porterville College Sportarama which is set for February 15 according to PC athletic director Sid Hall.

This event is one of a series sponsored by the Porterville Quarterback club. This year, under President Al Weaver the local athletic pushers have really gone all out; they are sponsoring the Harlem Clowns, who played here last Wednesday night; the Sportarama, which is a series of boxing and wrestling matches between local college athletes, and later in the spring, the second annual Banquet of Champions.

Last year the Sportarama and the Banquet of Champions were on the same night but they will be split this year to avoid the difficulties that were incurred last year.

We had the pleasure of fighting in the Sportarama last year and managed to preserve our glass jaw and come out of the bout with nothing other than a cold sweat, but Sid said he was sending us into a hatchet fight without a hatchet this year. Could prove interesting. In most of the fights last year there was little display of boxing style, but plenty of roughhousing. Sid and the Quarterback club members are planning an outstanding fight card for the local fistic fans and it's something to look forward to, come February.

An interesting situation is developing on the PUHS Panther basketball squad. Seems that it's a case of Hill and Hill, if it isn't Bob it's Tiny and in some instances it's both who lead the Panther scoring column. Bob was the top scorer in the southern Yosemite league last year and is receiving plenty of competition this year from little brother Tiny. At any rate Hill and Hill could be the answer to Panther basketball coach Al Melcer's problems.

FINS FUR FEATHERS

By Phil The Forester

Although the fish and game commission recently went on record to request the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service for a special coot or mudhen depredation order, no word has been received from the Portland headquarters of the Federal Fish and Wildlife Service.

It seems that with the flood conditions, crop depredation by these birds has not been quite as bad as usual and field men have not reported cases on the asumption the order would be issued as it has the past two years.

A little checking with the powers that be indicates the Portland wildlife officials may be heard from one way or the other by the end of this week. We have every reason to believe including numerous cases of coot crop depredation that the order will be issued, if not state-wide, then for the San Joaquin valley.

This is an off season hunting activity as far as the sportsmen are concerned but of course the depredation control order would not be issued with this intent in mind but rather to prevent crop loss and damage by the lowly mudhen.

Although rain and flood conditions have discouraged the angler, the valley weather has actually been rather warm and this is what it takes to bring out the black bass, catfish and other warm water species. Received a report last week from one friend who said he took a quick limit of nice bass from Millerton Lake so warm water fishing may be worth a try right about now.

Anglers are reminded of the four lakes on the Los Banos Game Refuge which were closed to fishing for the duration of the duck season. While no official announcemet has been made as to the lakes being reopened, we can see no reason why they should not now be available to the angler. These lakes provided excellent fishing last fall and they are full of various species of fish including striped bass. A great many of the fish that were rescued during the receding waters on the west side were released in the Los Banos ponds.

It begins to appear that our coastal steelhead and salmon fishing season will close the last of February without many fish being taken. About the time the streams and rivers start to clear up another rain storm comes along and roils up the water and ruins the fishing.

Some catfish are being taken from Isabella lake in Kern county but no mention has been made about the trout fishing there which is open year 'round. There should be a quarter million or so rainbow in the lake that were washed out of the hatchery rearing ponds above.

PIRATES BATTERED IN TWO GAMES

Porterville's battered Pirates last week experienced one of the toughest weekends of the current basketball season as they lost to the COS Giants 74-52 Friday night at home and traveled to Fresno Saturday night to drop another league contest to the Fresno JC Rams 74-56.

The Giants' fast break and superior height set the PC outfit back on its heels, and they never recovered as the cross county rivals raced to their first win over the Pirates this season. Eddie Mitchell, high school All-American from Arizona, scored 23 points for the winners.

Too much man power told the story Saturday night as the Pirates invaded Ramland and got horned in the process. The defending state champions, led by 6 ft. 8 in. Gary Alcorn who scored 27 points against the Pirates, were never in trouble as they sent the locals home with their fourth loss in league competition.

OUR TOWN

By Betty Pearson

Glenn Cline tells me the most exciting thing in his life these days is walking his three month old son at five o'clock in the morning. "A real ear bender," says Glenn. The way Glenn tells it I do believe it's pure music to Papa . . . Met Nancy Lumley walking one of the youngest belles in Our Town. Miss Jana Marie has completely smitten the entire Lumley household . . . Did you see Miss Susan Marie Baker dining with Bobby and Ralph, her parents? Did you notice the fashionable blue suede shoes trimmed in lace and the stunning white bonnet?

Zany over zany hats? Just wait 'til Emma Mae Threlkeld's market week splurge starts coming in. Imagine a white coolie staw with pink wooden elephants or the silly dilly with an animated puppet on the front. I'll feel just like Palm Springs in the winter with something like that to keep me cool in a Porterville summer.

Did you ever eat Felix "Bud" Alston's pickled mushrooms or bell peppers? These are a great favorite with the men in Our Town. I asked Bud for his recipe . . since he is a "pinch of this and a dash of that" cook, you will have to be the portioner. Try this . . . vinegar, onion juice, Worchester sauce, garlic and marinate two days. Try this on carrots, celery and olives also, and Junior will eat his vegetables.

Over The Table: Mr. and Mrs. Porter Sanders from 'round Exeter way . . . Mr. and Mrs. Murray Tanner . . . The handsome J. R. Young family . . . Mr. and Mrs. Rolla Bishop . . . The very charming Mr. Joe Tafoya from Truth Consequence, New Mexico . . . Honest! . . . Joe said his town was about 8,000 in population and it took two elections to change the name of their town. As Gertrude Stein says . . . "A rose is a rose" . . . Bob and Agnes Merzoian after a short vacation at Palm Springs. . . . Ed Vincent who forgot his hat . . . Ira and Rosita Marks happy with their new business venture . . . Dr. Troy Cox and Dr. Fred Hoffer dining with their lovely wives Jeanne and LaVerne. . . . Pauline Berkshire and her daughter, Ellen Ann, just back from the beautiful wedding of Dr. Cox's brother, Joe. The wedding was in Palo Alto where Joe Cox and his bride, Marie Damrosch, are both Stanford students. They were married by the bride's uncle, a missionary priest from San Francisco. Troy's daughter, Carolyn Cox, was flower girl for the wedding procession. Since the bride is a Wahini from Hilo, Hawaii . . . I am wondering if someone sang the beloved Hawaiian Wedding Song. "Aloah!"

Sue Moore and Jeanne Hoerner spoke most eloquently before our city council in behalf of our new Barn Theater Guild project. We have asked the city, in view of our rapidly expanding population, to place directional signs towards the Theater. This would be a great aid to building a finer theater. I had a mild case of stage fright but Mayor Hamilton made us feel welcome . . .

Sure hope you didn't miss the potluck supper at the Terra Bella Woman's club Tuesday night. Some of the finest cooks I know live in Terra Bella so I can always recommend their potlucks. All the proceeds from Tuesday night were donated to the March of Dimes.

Sermon in Miniature

By Everett C. Schneider, Minister

The Evangelical United Brethren Church
511 Third Street, Porterville

"BLUE-RIBBONED SONS"

A father wondered why his son had gotten into trouble. In everything up to now Farmer Jones had won the praises and honors of men. A neighbor was honest and frank enough to tell him one day. And this is what he said, "Bill, you have blue-ribboned cattle because you spend time in seeing that they get the right care, but your son is neglected by his own father."

This Sunday begins Youth Week. In most of our churches January 29th will be Denominational Youth Sunday, and on the 5th of February "Youth Sunday" will be observed in the community. But for many parents the week will come and go without even a passing interest.

I have seen fathers proudly stand by at the community and county fairs and watch their sons receive honors for their cattle, sheep, pigs, and chickens, but who would rather be "caught dead" than be seen with their sons at a Sunday School.

Paul the Apostle said to fathers of his day, "Fathers, do not provoke your children, lest they become discouraged," (Col. 3 : 21 RSV) and such a word is needed today. Most of us fathers would have champion sons if we as men would be champions. It takes courage to be a champion father. In the words of Josiah Holland, "God, give us men."

Nathanial A. Talmage has written, "Sure, son, our farm is a place where we grow a lot of potatoes, but let's remember that it is much more than that. This farm is home. Sometimes I wonder whether in the busyness of our daily work, we forget how important is our stewardship of the happiness of those near and dear to us."

Farm Land Zoning Conference Subject

Zoning to safe-guard valuable farm land will be discussed at a state-wide conference called by the California State chamber of commerce in San Francisco tomorrow. Frank Shay, deciduous fruit grower of San Jose and chairman of the state chamber of commerce agricultural committee, will preside; the session will open with a talk by J. Earl Coke, former assistant secretary of agriculture and now associated with the Bank of America.

We Only Heard

By BILL RODGERS

SAYS BOB Serbian, after a trip down one of the Los Angeles freeways, "Either I'm getting older or those southern California drivers are getting crazier than ever."

AND PITY the plight of the poor Republican whose 1956 car licenses plates carry the initials, FDR.

SPEAKING OF Republicans, a local customer remarks that Republicans now-a-days are in the same situation as migratory ducks. Everyone is taking a shot at them, even if they only have a slingshot.

TONY RAMOS, out at Cotton Center Hardware, is contemblating a used gun sale. Seems the boys who removed several guns from his store recently handled said guns like cordwood. Tony has the guns back, but they are definitely in a "used" condition.

THEN THERE is the case of Johnnie Wright, whose son, Jackie, finally got through a Christmas call from Tokyo the other day. "We sure were glad to hear from him," says Johnnie, "but naturally, the call was collect."

THIS AND THAT — All departments of the California Farm Bureau Marketing association showed a substantial increase in the amount of business done in 1955 over 1954, says Manager, Bud Jackson . . . Crop production in the United States in 1955 almost equalled the 1948 record and is considerably greater than for any of the past six years . . . Down in Texas, experiments are underway with use of honey that is unsuitbale for human consumption in cattle fattening rations . . . A major factor in the "farm problem" is that farmers are now getting only 39 cents out of every dollar spent for food in retail stores — the smallest share since 1940; Secretary Benson is now finding out what can be done about this situation.

FIELD CROP VALUE DOWN

Combined value of California field crops in 1955 was $757,411,000, four per cent less than in 1954, but above the 10-year average of $656,308,000. Aggregate production was 15,640,000 tons, exceeded only by the 1954 record of 16,501,682 tons.

An old saying has it that anyone predicting local weather is either a fool or not a native. However one of our original, long time, residents has been assuring us for several years we are due for a long and terribly cold winter. In fact this present winter was the longest and terribly coldest of them all. Which goes to show you how much us natives really know about the weather.

Fortunately all the winters are unusual in California, which gives us something to talk about. Lately the leading topics of conversation have been the wetness and the warmness of the past few months. For some reason this hasn't been blamed on the atom bomb, the water in Tulare Lake, or Bill Rodgers. Only the coldest and driest seem to stem from these sources.

It would seem warm, wet winters are the answer to many a gardener's prayer just as they are the curse of many others. This depends entirely on the sandiness or adobeness of their respective yards. In order to please both types we have rakes and shovels for the sand dwellers and stepping stones for the adobe "mudders". These stones may be exchanged next summer for some dynamite to loosen this same soil. Of course generous amounts of peat moss, or leaf mold, will ease the situation and should be purchased across the tracks on "E" Street, north of Olive. No parking meters to take your money, just us.

Having covered the winter weather predictions it is really time to be forecasting a hot, dry summer. (nobody ever predicts a cool, pleasant one). If such is to be the case we have some more of those shady trees which we were selling last summer. Likewise we have a variety of shrubs, bushes, clumps, brush, herbage, evergreens, sprouts, roots, shoots and saplings for every purpose. Many for a dollar twenty five or less and all guaranteed to grow, regardless of the weather.

As of the first of the week, a total of $3,069.00 had been raised for the March of Dimes in Porterville, with money still coming in and with no return as yet on the carload of oranges, donated by Sunkist Growers of the area, for auction in New York City.

At Springville, members of the Lions club cleared approximately $450.00 on a March of Dimes dinner and raised additional funds at a box supper auction this week. At Ducor, a bean feed is being given tomorrow night, Friday, beginning at 6:00 p.m. at the Ducor elementary school, as a March of Dimes benefit; at Woodville last night, Troy Hutchinson, and his committee, staged a barbecue dinner and dance at the Cub club, with music by Smiley Maxon.

The March of Dimes drive raises funds for the fight against polio and for treatment of and rehabilitation of polio cases. Heading the Tulare county campaign, which has extended through January, is Howard Way, of Exeter; chairman of the county unit of the Infantile Paralysis Foundation is Charles Haener, of Porterville.

Persons who have not returned their donation cards, received in the mail, are urged to do so prior to the end of the drive next Tuesday.
